AT a special meeting of the Board of property in Lancaster, June 24, 1799.

Present,

Daniel Brodhead, Sec. Gen.
John Hall, Secretary,
Francis Johnston, Reg. Gen. } of the Land office.

The petition of Thomas Stewardson on behalf of himself and the other trustees for the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, bearing date Philadelphia, 5th Month 17th 1799, stated as follows, viz. That a certain John Collins had in consequence of fraudulent deeds poll, obtained patents for two certain tracts of land, one situate in the county of Northumberland, surveyed to Samuel Caldwell in pursuance of a warrant dated in 1774; and the other situate now in Luzerne county, surveyed to said Caldwell by a warrant also dated in 1774—and requested that patents might be granted, for the said tracts, to William Crammond, Edward Tilghman, John Ashley, and Thomas Stewardson, trustees of the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, as the said two tracts were part of the estate of Meese and Caldwell.

Whereupon the Board having considered the same, ordered that at least sixty days notice be given in one of the Philadelphia newspapers, and in the Lancaster Journal to the said Collins or his assigns, to appear before the Board on the first Monday in October next, to shew cause if any he or they have, why patents should not issue for the said two tracts to the said trustees agreeably to the prayer of the said petition.

CONTINUATION OF

Late Foreign Articles

BY THE DUBLIN PACKET, ARRIVED AT NEW-YORK.

PARIS.

JEAN DEBRY'S LETTER.

The Minister Plenipotentiary of the French Republic to the Congress, to Citizen Talleyrand, Minister for Foreign Affairs.

"Strasbourg, 12 Floreal, (May 1.)

"Citizen Minister,

"I endeavor to collect myself, in order to dictate the details of the dreadful events of which the French Legation were the victims, on the 9th Floreal (April 28) and from which wounded and mutilated, I have escaped by a miracle, of which I cannot give an account.

"Long before 30th Germinal (19th April) the French Legation perceived that means of all kinds were employed by the enemies of peace to produce the dissolution of the Congress; and we reckoned upon seeing it expire insensibly, by the successive retreat of those who composed it; but on that day (30th Germinal) the carrying off the ferry men who had served to transmit our correspondence by way of Seltz, informed us that our enemies would not, undoubtedly, have the patience which the French government shewed; we exclaimed against this violation of the rights of nations; the Deputation exclaimed on thier side; and the result of these steps was a military letter, which announced to us, that no tranquilizing declaration for the safety of the members of the Congress could be made. The Duputation assembled anew, declared that they were no longer free; that, besides, the recal of several members rendered them, according to the terms of their instructions, unable to adopt any deliberation whatever. It was upon this conclusion, officially transmitted to us by the Directorial Minister, himself recalled, that we founded our Note of the 6th Floreal (25th April) protesting against the violence exercised, and declaring that we should repair within three days to the commune of Srasburgh, to continue the negociation there. The next day, the 7th (I give you all these details from memory, because our papers are carried off as you shall hear; but I do not think I am mistaken respecting dates) Citizen Lamire, courier of the Legation was seized at Plittersdorff by an Austrian patrole, and sent to Gernsbach, the Colonels' quarters. Informed by us of this outrage, unheard of till then, but which was soon to be surpassed, all the members of the diplomatic body, especially the minister of Baden, the Prussian Legation and the Directorial ministers applied to the Austrian colonel for reparation: they demanded from him particularly, the assurance that we should be respected in returning to France. No answer was given. On the 9th (17th April) preparations were made for our departure; we might have gone without doubt with safety, had we stolen away on the 8th (26th April) when there was no Austrian patroles on the Rhine; but having once introduced the question of the right we had to return in safety, we should have thought ourselves wanting to the dignity of our character, had we not required some solution; and perhaps this sentiment facilitated the execution of the crime upon which I am about to enter.

"I resume my recital, Citizen Minister; On the 9th Floreal (April 28) at half past seven in the evening, a captain of Hussars of Szecklers, stationed at Gegenbach, came, on the part of his Colonel, to declare verbally to Baron Albini, that we might quit Rastadt in safety, and afterwards came to signify to us an order to leave that city in 24 hours. Already had the Hussars of Szeckler taken possession of it, and occupied all the evenues; at eight o'clock we got into our carriages: when we arrived at the gate of Rastadt we found a general prohibition to let no one enter or go out. An hour was spent in parleys—It appears they stood in need of this delay, in order to organize the execrable execution that followed, and of which, I say it with conviction, all the details had been commanded and combined beforehand. At length the Austrian commandant gave an order for the departure of the French Legation. We demanded an escort: it was refused, and the commandant declared, that we should be as safe as in our own rooms. In consequence of this, we began our journey. We were not fifty paces from Rastadt, ourselves and the Ligurian Legation, who did not quit us, and who participated our dangers with unequalled devotion, when a detachment of nearly 60 Hussars of Szeckler, in ambush upon the Canal of La Murg, fell upon our carriages, and made them stop. Mine was the first of them. Six men, armed with drawn sabres tear me out with violence—I am searched, and robbed of all that I had. Another, who appeared to command this expedition, arrives on horse back, and asks for the minister Jean Debry; I thought he came to save me. It is I, I said, who am Jean Debry, minister of France. Scarcely had I said so, when two cuts from a sabre stretched me upon the ground, I was immediately assailed on all sides by fresh blows. Tumbled into a ditch, I feigned to be dead: the banditti then left me to go to the other carriages. I availed myself of this instant, and escaped—wounded in different places, losing blood on all sides, and indebted for my life, perhaps, only to the thickness of my clothes. Bonnier was killed in the same manner I was to have been, and Reberjot massacred almost in the arms of his wife.

"The same question was put to my ill fated colleagues as to me: 'Are you Bonnier? Are you Roberjot?" our carriages were pillaged; every thing became the prey of the brigands; the papers of the Legation were carried off, conveyed to the Austrian commandant, and claimed in vain. The secretary of the legation threw himself into a ditch, and by favor of the night, escaped the blows of the assassins. I crawled to an adjacent wood, hearing the yells of the cannibals, the screams of the victims, and particularly of their companions, of the wife of Roberjot, of my wife seven months gone with child, and of two daughters calling out for their father: my private secretary, Citizen Belin, was held by six men, to be witness to all these scenes of horror. My Valet de Chambre was thrown into the river.

"I know that all the members of the diplomatic corps made the greatest efforts to break through the line of the assassins, and to come to the assistance of those to whom assistance might yet be administered. But it was not till one in the morning that the wife of Roberjot could get to M. de Jacob's, the Prussian minister; and my wife and daughters to M. de Redon, minister from Bremen and Hanover. I wandered about the wood during the whole of that dreadful night, fearful of the day, which might expose me to the Austrian patroles. About six in the morning, hearing them go about, and seeing that I could not avoid them, penetrated besides by the rain and the cold, and growing more and more enfeebled by the blood which I lost, I took the desperate resolution of returning to Rastadt. I saw on the road the naked bodies of my two colleagues. The dreadful weather, and perhaps the weariness of the assassins, after the commission of such crimes, facilitated my journey, and I arrived at length out of breath, and covered with blood, at the Count de Gortz's, the King of Prussia's minister.

"It is out of my power to depict to you the torment, and to relate to you the recitals of all the persons attached to the Legation, who were the witnesses or the objects of these execrable scenes; I will collect them when I have strength. Notwithstanding her virtuous courage, the wife of Roberjot is like a mad person with grief. I implore for her all the interest of the government. Fatigued with the recital which I have just made at two different times, I confine myself now to express to you how much gratitude each of the persons saved, owes to the generous devotion of the members of the diplomatic corps. I name none of them, because it would be necessary to name them all. Besides generous attentions and sweet consolations, we are indebted to them for our return here; a formal act, signed by all of them, was conveyed to the Austrian Colonel declaring to him that their constituents made him responsible both for the crime and its consequences. The minister of the Margrave gave us an escort of his troops for our return. It was necessary to suffer it to be joined by the Hussars of Szeckler, who appeared to see that I had escaped with regret. The Prussian Legation, prevented by them from accompanying us, charged their Secretary M. de Jordan, not to quit us till we had embarked. My God; why was it that so much care could not prevent the fatal catastrophe of my two ill fated colleagues.

I should also add, that almost all the inhabitants of Rastadt, shedding tears at the outrage, loaded it with merited execration, and did not dissemble the opinion which attributes the attrocious conception, and all the direction of it to Austria, whose minister Lehrbach, now commissary with the army of the archduke, obtained, without the smallest difficulty, at his departure from Rastadt, all the passports he demanded of the French legation, to Austria, who dared to signify to us by the count de Merternich, that the imperial commissioner could no longer remain at Rastadt, in consequence of the want of safety for his correspondence; to Austria, in short, who according to every probability, gave the order for massacreing three Ministers carrying off their papers, and promised the plunder as the reward.

"There are many other approximations that might be made but they will be felt.—Pardon the disorder of my ideas; the horrible images which I have incessantly before my eyes do not leave me free reflection, and oppress me more than the pain I feel. My wounds are in a state, and hitherto announce nothing dangerous.

Health and Respect,
(Signed) "JEAN DEBRY."

LONDON, May 21.

BREST FLEET

In the absence of all authentic information respecting this expedition, new conjectures are daily formed as to its destination. On this subject, a diurnal writer says, "The Brest fleet was near the north coast of Spain on the 28th. If it had steered for Cadiz it must have been seen. We suspect it had stretched out directly westward into the Atlantic Ocean, whether right for Ireland or to the left for Cadiz, or going onward for America, we cannot determine. But among the many idle speculations that have been made as to its object, that which considers America is not the most contemptible. The southern States seem disposed to receive them; the Spanish interest have lately been in collision with those of the United States in that quarter We must remember Blount's conspiracy, and the late discovery of a ship with French emissaries from Hamburgh. To this we must add, that the last American papers say, the President had given orders for raising a strong army 'as there was reason to believe the French had determined to invade the southern States.', Such an invasion would please Spain; and the commercial interest of this country would receive a deadly blow by the overthrow of the existing government.—If the French fleet were then to revolntionize the West Indies, and pour the black troops from St. Domingo into Jamaica, Barbadoes, and our other islands, the mischief might be dreadful. Touissant's pretended affection for this country is a farce. We see no object which the Brest fleet can so probably attain, or which could prove more destructive of our commercial advantages, than successful attacks on America and the West Indies. Those two points compose more than one half of the whole of our trade. Either of them is nearly equal to the East Indies in point of value with this country, and if they were revolutionized, our marine could scarcely recover them. The manifest cooperation of Spain, and her late complaints that she could not draw her treasure from America on account of the British navy, give some countenance to this speculation, which we are ready to admit, may be as idle as any that has been advanced.

ELECTION.

ALL those of the inhabitants of the County of Bucks, by law, qualified to vote for Members of Assembly, and who are desirous that JAMES ROSS, Esq. of Pittsburgh, should succeed the present supreme Magistrate, as Governor for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, are requested to meet at the house of Charles Stuart, in Doylstown, on Saturday the 17th of August next, for the purpose of consulting what further measures may be necessary for promoting the election of Mr. Ross.

A POETICAL EPISTLE TO THE AUTHOR
By an American Gentleman.

[In introducing this celebrated work to the Gentlemen and Ladies of America, I have endeavored to give it a dress proportioned to its distinguished merit, and to the taste of those for whose amusement and delight it is intended. No expence has been spared in the publication; and I flatter myself that the work does not yield, either in paper or print, to any one ever published in America —— This edition has an advantage over some former ones, as it contains by way of notes, the minor productions of the author; and, it has an advantage over every other edition, in the Poetical Epistle, which is prefixed to it, and which must be extremely gratifying to every lover of literature in this country, as it is a proof that there are Americans who have the taste to admire, the justice to applaud, and the talents to rival the Geniuses of other nations.

NATIONAL PUBERTY.

"The fourth of July is properly celebrated as the birth day of the United States—The seventeenth ought to be commemorated as the Anniversary of the manhood of our nation."

On Wednesday, agreeably to arrangements, which were previously published, the Young Men of Boston, publicly celebrated the dissolution of the Treaty which once linked us to the French Nation. At an early hour, the procession moved from Faneuil-Hall, escorted by the Independent Light Infantry Company, under Capt. Sargent. They halted at the Old State-House, where they were joined by officers of the Army and Navy of the U. S. Officers of the Independent and Militia, Companies of the Town, and a number of respectable gentlemen of the Country and Town. The Procession passed through Court, Tremont and School-streets, and Cornhill, to the Old Brick Meeting-House—Which was previously almost completely occupied by the patriotic, enquiring and judicious of the Fair Sex; when the Gentlemen of the Procession were added, the house was extremely crouded.—And the inconveniences of fraternal compressure were generally realized. The Rev. Mr. Kirkland commenced the business of the day, by a Prayer particularly apposite —Then followed "Rise Columbia," an Ode, sung by Mr. Rea. The whole audience joined in the thrilling chorus,

"Rise COLUMBIA, brave and free,
To POISE the GLOBE, and BOUND the SEA."

Mr. Paine then pronounced an Oration replete with important fact, chaste wit, and pure patriotism. The praise, repeatedly bestowed by the auditors, is a demonstration of its merit infinitely beyond newspaper plaudit or individual elogium. The ceremonies closed with the people's Song, "Adams and Liberty"---in the chorus of which they heartily joined. The Arrangements of the day were prepared with judgment and executed with precision.

HARTFORD, July 22.

Wednesday last, the 17th of July, was the anniversary of the dissolution of the treaty, between the United States and France. An event of so much importance to the safety, independence, and happiness of the United States, it is presumed, will not be forgotten by the real friends of their Country. Impressed with the idea that nothing of so much magnitude has occurred since the Declaration of Independence, a number of gentlemen belonging to this city, met at Major Ripley's, and supped with great harmony, and festivity. The persons who have in various ways, been in greater or less degrees concerned in bringing to pass the abrogation of the Treaty, were bro't into remembrance; and the following toasts were drank, as expressive of the sentiments of the company respecting their characters. As most of the toasts are quotations, it will readily be perceived, that vice, and villany are ever the same.

TOASTS.

1. The 17th of July 1798—May Heaven reward the Hands, that

"Cancell'd, and tore to pieces that great Bond
"Which kept us pale"

2. "Second thoughts are best'—

It was well enough, at the time, to make a Treaty with France, but it was better to break it.

3. Talleyrand's last communications—

"He cannot catch old Birds with Chaff."

4. The Directory—

"Why we can smile, and murder when we
Deceive more slily than Ulysses could, [smile,
And cry content to that which grieves our heart—
Can we do this, and cannot get a Crown?"

5. Talleyrand—

"Aw'd by no shame, by no respect control'd,
In scandal busy, in reproaches bold;
His figure such as might his soul proclaim,
One eye is blinking, and both legs are lame—
Long has he liv'd the scorn of every Greek."

6. France—

"O nation miserable,
With an untitled Tyrant, bloody-scepter'd,
When wilt thou seethy wholesome days again?"

7. Joel Barlow—

"I am determined to prove a villain;
Plots have I laid, inductions dangerous.
By druuken prophecies, libels, and dreams;—
I am subtil, false, and treacherous."

8. John Nicholas—

"What bracker is this same that deafs our ears
With this abundance of superfluous breath?"

9. Doctor Logan—

"I do remember an Apothecary,
And hereabouts he dwells—
And if a man did need some treason now,
Here lives a caitiff wretch would sell it him."

10. Elbridge Gerry—

"It cannot be
But I am pigeon-liver'd—Like John-a-dreams,
Unpregnant of my cause."

11. Negociation—

"Go treat with tygers, dragons, wolves, and bears."

12. Monsieur Gallatin—

May the Wheels of Government ever be drawn by horses that do not understand a Brogue.

13. Thomas Jefferson—

May the time speedily come, when such Philosophers, and such Vice-Presidents, shall be as great curiosities as Mammoth's bones.

14. Matthew Lyon—

"Abhorred Slave! Whom stripes may move, not kindness;
I have us'd thee, filth as thou art, with human care,
Took pains to make thee speak, waen thou didst not
Know thy own meaning. But all in vain
Therefore wast thou cousin'd within this Rock."

15. VIRGINIA & KENTUCKY RESOLUTIONS—

"No love between these twoo was lost
Each was to other kind,
In love they liv'd, in love they died,
And left no babes behind.
[Tune, Children in the Wood.

16. CONGRESS.

"And whilst a field should be dispatch'd & sought
You are disputing of your generals;—
One would have ling'ring war with little cost;
Another would fly swift, but wanteth wings;
A third man thinks, without expence at all,
By guileful fair words, peace may be obtain'd."

NEW-YORK, July 23.

The account, in a morning paper stating that capt. Giles, in 55 days from Cadiz, had fell in with five British sail of the line, a few days after his sailing is totally erroneous. Capt. Giles heard, in Cadiz, that they had passed that port, and he fell in with no British vessels on his passage home.

☞ The schooner Rachel, from Cadiz, ship Diana from St. Sebastians, and brig Diets from Liverpol, arrived here yesterday and Sunday, after long passages. By them, of course, we have received no intelligence.

An article on the Coffee-House Books says—"We are authorised to assure the public, that the vessel seen off Egg Harbour, supposed to be a French privateer, proves to be a British Letter of Marque, which has arrived in this port."

☞ Capt. Giles, of the schooner Rachael who arrived from Cadiz on Sunday evening, informs us, that he left there barque ——, Doggan, of New-York; ship ——, Mitchell, Baltimore brig Betsey, Loring, Boston; snow Tapster, Tucket, N. York; and several other vessels, owned by Spanish merchants.

Ship Sally of Salem, which had been detained by the government, was expected to sail in ten days.

☞ Arrived yesterday, ship Diana, capt. Smith, from St. Sebastian, 68 days. Left there the following vessels, viz. ships Orlando, Capt. Smith; Matilda, Travers; and schrs. Pegasus, Palmer; Thetis, Stevenson, for New-York, a brig belonging to Baltimore, name unknown. Passenger on borrd, Mr. Archer.

The brig Diets, Captain Thompson, from Liverpool, in 70 days, five days after leaving Liverpool, spoke the schooner Ellis, Captain Wright, from Liverpool, to Hartford.

ALBANY, July 19.

[The following is extracted from an Address delivered at Cooperstown, on the late National Fast—by JOHN MCDONALD, A. M. —After detailing the measures adopted by this country, to preserve a good understanding with the French, previous to the system of arming for the defence of our property, and the security of our rights, the orator proceeds as follows:]

"America, was now convinced, that patience must give place to exertion, and fruitless negociation to defensive preparation. Adams, with decision, unveiled the behavior and views of that faithless government, and the danger to which her arms and her principles exposed us. He urged, that opportunity, and not inclination, prevented her, from putting her threats into execution. He called upon his country to assume the attitude of war, and to prepare for making her next demand with the sword.

"Who that knows the impious principles and the foul abomination of republican France will venture to maintain that this measure was either rash or unnecessary? Has she not boasted that her vengeance is faithful to her threats? Has she ever caressed a nation without polluting it? Her friendship and enmity are equally to be dreaded. The groans of Holland, the reproaches of Switzerland, the tears of Italy, bid us beware of French arts and arms. At their touch, all that endears domestic life; all that renders man dignified and woman lovely; all that soothes life and prepares for eternity, wither and die. This dark cloud, pregnant with misery, still points to our shores. Union among ourselves, confidence in our government, and trust in God, are our only protection."

BALTIMORE, July 22.

Should the belligerent powers of the European continent, adhere to their determination of "giving no quarter," the enlightened 18th century will have nothing to boast over the annals of the most barbarous periods of the world, the only consolation that humanity has left, is, that the more sanguinary the conflict, the sooner its termination.

We are informed that the United States ships of war Insurgente and Montezuma were on Friday last lying in Lynhaven bay, near Norfolk, ready for sea.

Extract of a letter from a merchant of respectability in Cadiz, to a mercantile house in this city, dated May 25, 1799.

"Enclosed you will find a copy of a decree lately given at Madrid, prohibiting all neutral vessels going to our West Indies, &c.—but it is expected, that by the representations gone to Madrid, it will be revoked in a great measure, and that Cocoa and Sugar will be admitted into our ports as of late, and at least those who have private licences for the importation will enjoy them.

"Our opinion is, that though there should be a declaration of war between America and France, that this country will avoid engaging in the affair."

No. VIII.

To the Managers of the Alms House and House of Employ.

GENTLEMEN,

I will now remark on fuel: in your account you say it cost £1214 7 8. If you had mentioned how many cords, it would have enabled us to form a more correct opinion of the œconomy used in this part of the expenditures. To me the charge appears very extravagant, and being a material item, it is worthy of attention.

Your next charge under the head of incidental expenses; for salaries of steward, matron, nurses to the sick, door keepers, repairs to the house, candles, oil, stationary, household and kitchen furniture and funeral expences, is £3375 7 0½

Is it possible you can suppose this lumping manner of charging will give satisfaction? It is sometimes urged as a mask, to conceal improper charges, and although I do not mean to pass such a censure as this upon you, I confess it appears to me a great mystery how those few expences can amount to so much money. I will however analize the account, in my own way, by a suppositious calculation on the different items, and see the result.

Suppose the steward has £300 per ann. not a bad birth,	£300
The matron,	50
Door keeper, hard times too, if out of 226 men who do little or nothing you cannot furnish one for that office,	30
Repairs of the houses you say is	753	5	10
800 lb. candles at 15d.	50	0	0
Oil,	9	0	0
Stationary,	18	15	0
House and kitchen furniture,	112	10	0
Funeral charges,	75	0	0
	1398	10	10
The only remaining head is nurses, for them a balance is left of	1976	16	2

A few more reflections arise on the above account. It may be possible that your Scribe drew it out in a haste and forgot to put an &c. to it, which will supply any omission. If that be the case, and the error is a typographical one, he had better have it corrected. In considering the matter, I am inclined to believe, such a mistake might have happened, and probably the doctor's four hundred dollars per ann. may form part of the aggregate sum, for it is no where mentioned*: neither is the counsellor's salary of four hundred dollars per annum to be seen in any part of your account, which I notice just to give you an opportunity to explain, while I prepare a few observations upon that subject for the next number.

* The physicians in the hospital have no pay, and they must be contributors of at least ten pounds before they can be elected.

Died, in Bucks County, on the 18th inst. Mr. JOHN THOMPSON, aged 73 years; through life he was eminently useful and much respected—his death is generally lamented by a large circle of acquaintance.

At a meeting held at the house of Mrs. Landel, in the Northern Liberties, on the evening of the 17th inst. for the purpose of nominating a proper person to fill the office of Governor at the ensuing election,

SAMUEL WHEELER, in the chair.

JOHN F. WATSON, Secretary.

The meeting taking into consideration the shock which the equal rights of men have received from the overwhelming ambition of France; the danger with which every republic on earth has been threatened; and many of them destroyed by her open violence or secret intrigues; and the importance of filling our offices of public trust with men who have ever manifested an exclusive attachment to our own country; who have had no connection with foreign factions, no bias from foreign influence, who are truly republican in their manners and principles, and truly American in their affections and patriotism;

It was unanimously resolved to support JAMES ROSS, Esq. of Pittsburgh.

The meeting then proceeded to the appointment of a corresponding committee, whereupon the following persons were chosen, viz.

Samuel Wheeler,
Joseph Coperthwait,
John Kean,
Basil Wood,
Abraham Coates,
James Swaine,
Abraham Duffield,
James Hart,
Abiah Brown,
Matthew Vandusen,
Thomas Hambleton,
Lewis Bender.

Resolved, That the foregoing be published in the papers of this city, and that the Chairman and Secretary sign the same.

SAMUEL WHEELER, Chairman.
JOHN F. WATSON, Secretary.

N. B. The Members of the above Committee are requested to meet at Robert Meldrum's tavern in Second-street, Northern Liberties, on Wednesday evening the 24th inst. at 7 o'clock. 6t

TREASURY DEPARTMENT

JUNE 27, 1798.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That by virtue of an act, passed during the present session of Congress, so much of the act entituled "An Act making further provision for the support of public credit, and for the redemption of the public debt"—passed the third day of March, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-five, as bars from settlement or allowance, Certificates, commonly called Loan Office and final settlement Certificates, and Indents of Interests, is suspended until the twelfth day of June, which will be in the year one thousand seven hundred and ninety nine.

That on the liquidation and settlement of the said Certificates, and Indents of Interest, at the Treasury, the Creditors will be entitled to receive Certificates of funded Three Per Cent. Stock equal to the amount of the said Indents, and the arrearages of interest due on their said Certificates, prior to the first day of January one thousand seven hundred and ninety one.

That the principal sums of the said Loan Office and final settlement Certificates, with the interest thereon, since the first day of January, one thousand seven hundred and ninety one, will be discharged after liquidation at the Treasury, by the payment of interest and reimbursement of principal, equal to the sums which would have been payable thereon, if the said Certificates had been subscribed, pursuant to the Acts making provision for the debts of the United States, contracted during the late war, and by the payment of other sums, equal to the market value of the remaining Stock, which would have been created by such subscriptions as aforesaid, which market value will be determined by the Comptroller of the Treasury.

OLIVER WOLCOTT,
Secretary of the Treasury.

TERMS
Of Richard Folwell, in Philadelphia,
FOR SUBSCRIBING TO THE
JOURNALS OF CONGRESS,
FROM THE COMMENCEMENT
Of the American War, in 1774, to the present time,
INCLUDING
The Reports of Heads of Departments, of Committees, and other Official and Private Papers of that Body, now first permitted to be made public.

TERMS.

THE work will be printed on a fine paper, and a new neat type, in large octavo.

Each volume will contain above 500 pages, neatly bound and lettered.

Uniformity in size, paper, and binding, will be observed throughout the work; so that, while the subscribers become possessed of a valuable record, an ornament may be added to their libraries.

The price to subscribers will be 2 dolls. 75 cts. per volume, in boards, and 3 dolls. whole bound, but, as the publisher does not intend to print manmore than the number subscribed for, a considerable rise on the price may be expected to non-subscribers.

Each volume will contain about one third less of letter-press than the original edition; but, as the publisher is not yet enabled to determine the exact of the Private Journals, which he may be allowed to make public, he cannot ascertain the number of volumes which will comprise the work.

☞ Payments to be made on delivery of each volume.

Subscribers will have it at their option, either to subscribe for the whole of the Journals, up to the present time, or to those only of the Old Congress prior to the organization of the Federal Government.

IN all countries, the proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are lost in darkness and obscurity, owing to a carelessness, in the succeeding generation, to preserve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in those rude ages, being called off from their domestic concerns, to engage in wars and conquest. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been transmitted to our days? Time, that destroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records, and renders them almost inestimable. It is hoped, that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their assistance in transmitting to posterity the [illegible] ours of their ancestors—founders of the [illegible] nation.

 The work will [illegible] ly be advanced with expedition and prompti[illegible]. The following will show the support it has already acquired:

"Respectfully sheweth,

"That having, in our respective avocations, frequent occasions to recur to the Journals of Congress, we experience inconvenience by the scarcity of them: That we understand that Richard Folwell, printer, of Philadelphia, has had it in contemplation to print that public record; and that he hath obtained partial countenance from many individuals; but that he has delayed prosecuting the work, in expectation of encouragement from government, that may adequately indemnify him. We, therefore, respectfully solicit, as the publication is necessary to be disseminated among public bodies that Congress will, in their wisdom, render him such additional encouragement, to that which he has obtained from private individuals, as to enable him to proceed with the work, so that your Memorialists may be enabled to purchase copies of that record for themselves.
